[illegible]

A diagram showing a horizontal line with a green segment on the left and a blue segment on the right, with a vertical line at the junction.

The diagram consists of a series of horizontal bars of varying lengths and positions, arranged in a staggered, descending pattern from top-left to bottom-right. The bars are colored in a gradient from light blue to dark blue. The bars are arranged in a sequence that suggests a timeline or a series of events, with each bar representing a different point or duration. The bars are positioned at regular intervals, creating a rhythmic visual flow.
